INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON A EUROPEAN STUDENT CARD
[mid-term conference of the ESC EU-project]
[pre-congress workshop to EUNIS 2017]

Tuesday, June 6, 2017
at the University of Münster (Germany)

GENERAL INFORMATION

The conference on the European Student Card (ESC) takes place on June 6, 2017 at the University of Münster in the Western part of Germany.

The conference aims to present results from the EU-pilot project on the development and implementation of a European Student Card to a larger audience.

The conference venue is the Vom-Stein-Haus and the auditorium Building "Hörsaalgebäude Schlossplatz" in immediate vicinity and easy reach from the city center and central train station.

More information on the project is available on the ESC-conference website:
<http://europeanstudentcard.eu/esc-interim-conference/>

REGISTRATION & CONFERENCE COSTS

Registration to the conference is free of charge and includes lunch and coffee breaks as well as an evening reception on June 6, 2017. However, participants need to cover their own travel and accommodation costs.

Online registration: <http://dswurl.de/ESC-Conference2017>

Deadline for registration: May 20, 2017

The ESC-conference is at the same time a pre-conference workshop to the EUNIS Annual Congress on June 7-9, 2017. Please consider staying in Münster for this interesting event. A separate registration is necessary at additional costs for EUNIS 2017 congress: <http://www.eunis.org/eunis2017/>

TRAVEL ARRANGEMENTS

By train

Münster can easily be reached by train. Deutsche Bahn offers hourly services from all major cities in Germany.

By plane

Münster-Osnabrück International Airport

Münster's regional airport (FMO), situated 25 km away, offers frequent connections to Frankfurt, Munich (via Lufthansa) and London (via Ryanair) as well as regular connections to several other European destinations. At the airport, three bus lines (S50, D50 and R51) ensure a 24-hour service to the city center.

Düsseldorf Airport

Düsseldorf Airport (DUS), Germany's third-largest international airport, is only 100 km away and directly connected to Münster by train.

Local Transportation

With more than 20 city bus routes, Münster's local transportation is highly developed. City buses usually run every 20 minutes from Monday to Saturday and every 30 minutes on Sundays and holidays. All buses stop at the main railway station, several stops are located close to the congress venue. Taxis, taxi buses and night buses supplement the city bus service around the clock. Destinations within the Münsterland region are also accessible by bus.

Bicycles

For good reason Münster is called the capital of bicycles: Most visitors are impressed by the giant number of cyclists and the endless rows of bicycles parked at the railway station and in the city center. All main roads feature cycle lanes and the "Promenade", a beautiful avenue surrounding the historic center, is reserved for cyclists and pedestrians. Bicycles can be rented at bicycle stations at a daily charge of 5-10 Euros per bike.
